RAVES FROM
REAL MOMS

(CARDS) WEE GALLERY; (FLOOR MAT) TRINA ROSEN GRINI PHOTOGRAPHY; (BROWN CHAIR) KEEKAROO; (BIB) TOMMEE TIPPEE; (TOOTHBRUSH) VIOLIFE, INC.

Toy

With high-contrast, black-and-white repeating patterns, Wee Gallery's art cards are durable enough to weather little fingers and mouths, and the whimsical animals will hold baby's interest while stimulating his vision (and brain!). $13, weegallery.com

Clothing

A Sun Smarties romper works triple duty: It's adorable, is light and airy for baby on the move, and wards off harmful UV rays thanks to its highly sun-protectant material. $30, onestepahead.com

Bath Time

Like a modern riff on Weebles (remember them?), the super sensible upright Rockee toothbrush wobbles but won't fall down, so baby's bristles – and your countertop – stay clean. $15, violight.com

Practical Mommy

This mom has a soft spot for products that perform multiple functions and have some serious staying power.

Feeding

Get the whole ensemble:

Whether catching high chair spills or protecting the table from crafts, the Icky Splat Mat will be a fast favorite for its non-slip backing, no-curl edges, and crazy-easy wipe-down surface. $25, icky.com

Tommee Tippee's Easi-Roll Bib has a crumb-catching pocket and easy-clean material so flexible it rolls up for storage and travel. Adjustable neck sizes see baby through toddler meals. $7 (set of 2), tommeetippee.us

Introducing a high chair that could stick with junior through college: Keekaroo's Height Right. A seat and kick plate adjust in one-inch increments, ensuring a perfect fit from 6 months up to 250 pounds. $240, keekaroo.com

Baby Bonus

A long-lasting gift everyone can get behind: crowd funding for baby's college. Set up a free online registry where friends and family can easily invest in a child's 529 education savings plan. instagradd.com
